

Question1: Create a variable to store a person's name and a variable to store their age. Then print the value of each.

Question2: Create a list containing four integers, then perform the following arithmetic operations: add the first and second numbers, and subtract the fourth number from the third, then print them.

Question3: Determine whether a person's age is greater than 18 or not, if greater, print 'Hello user'.

Question4: Make a list that contains any number of names, then write a function that prints 'Hello' for each name in list using a for loop.

Question5: Create a map containing employees' names and ages, then use a switch statement to print 'Hello' + employee's name if this employee's age is greater than 18 years old.